Vol. 1. No. 19. WELLESLEY, MASS., THURSDAY, MARCH 13, 1902. Price, 5 Cents.

Open Meeting of the Agora Society.

The annual open meeting of the Agora Society took place last Saturday night. There were many guests present and the "Barn" was comfortably filled. The program for the evening, a session of the United States Senate, was carried out as follows:

Preliminary Business:—

1. Reading of the Journal.
2. Messages from the President.
3. Presentation of Memorials and Petitions.
4. Reports of Committees.

Debate upon a bill reported by the Judiciary Committee, entitled:

A BILL

For the protection of the President of the United States, the suppression of crime against the government, and for other purposes.

SPEAKERS.

Senator Hoar, Mass.,	Louise Prouty
Senator Hanna, Ohio,	Ethel Doak
Senator Vest, Mo.,	Lucile Green
Senator Lodge, Mass.,	Helen Harrington
Senator Tillman, S. C.,	Florence Barth
Senator Collum, Ill.,	Adele Ogden
Senator Teller, Colo.,	Maud Thompson
Senator Depew, N. Y.,	Annie Stocking

The text of the bill discussed was that introduced by Representative Ray in the House last February. The speakers on the respective sides presented the views of the Senator whom they represented in a characteristic and able manner, showing a clear knowledge of the subject themselves, as well as an intimate acquaintance with the mannerisms of these different men. The different speeches provoked much applause, and lively interest was manifested throughout the evening. At the close of the debate, a formal vote resulted in the passage of the bill accompanied by loud applause from the Senators.

The alumnæ back for the occasion were Grace Caldwell, '95, Elva Young, '96, Cora Stoddard, '96, Elizabeth Ziegler, '96, Nan Cobb, '96, Mary Haskell, '97, Lucy Wright, '00, Anna Cross, '00, Edith Moore, '00, Mary Barbour, '00, Mary Leavens, '01.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

On Saturday morning, March 8, immediately following chapel service, President Hazard read the names of the students attaining scholarships for the year '01-'02. The occasion was especially gratifying to the class of 1902 because of their fine showing in the number of honor scholars. President Hazard congratulated the class warmly upon the fine record it has maintained during its four years' college career, and gave the number of scholarships which each class since '99 would have had had the system then been in vogue: the class of '99—18, the class of '00—19, the class of '01—9, the class of '02—21, and the class of '03—13. Following is the list of honor scholars as read by President Hazard, last Saturday morning:

Durant scholars of 1902—Annie Fuller Babcock, Clara Edith Baker, Mary L. Bradshaw, Constance B. Draper, Jessica J. Haskell, Helen Harrington, Charlotte Hobbs, Katherine Hotz, Frances L. Hughes, Anna M. Klingenhagen, Frances L. Knapp, Caroline Pulsifer, Frankie Sullivan.

Wellesley College scholars, 1902—Clare Conklin, Bertha Davis, Bessie W. Manwaring, Clare Morrison, Ethel Noyes, Florence Osborne, Louise Prouty, Mary Reardon.

Durant scholars of 1903—Gertrude Schöpperle, Helen Lucas.

Wellesley College scholars of 1903—Louise W. Allen, Mary H. Crombie, Flora Dobbin, Grace Edwards, Jessie Goodwin, Genevieve Hanna, Myrtle Hunt, Marjorie Nickerson, Anne Ripley, Mary Shepherd, Belle W. Smith.

Following we print the basis on which these scholarships are awarded.

Honorary scholarships have been established by the College for the purpose of giving recognition to a high degree of excellence in academic work, and of showing appreciation of loyalty to the high intellectual standard the College seeks to maintain.

Attention is called to the following points:

1. These honors fall into two classes, students in first or higher class are termed Durant scholars; students in second class are termed Wellesley College scholars.
2. These honors are awarded to Seniors on basis of 3 1-2 years of work and to Juniors on basis of 2 1-2 years.
3. The standard in each class is absolute, not competitive. The name of every student who attains the standard of either class will be placed on the list.
4. All courses in College are on the same footing.
5. A small amount of non credit work will not debar from these honors.
6. A condition on college work will debar except when incurred in the Freshman year and made up before beginning of Sophomore year.

The names on the lists are arranged in alphabetical order.

A circular letter of interest to the Alumnæ and former students of Wellesley College has just been issued, as follows:

"The current expenses of Wellesley College for the year 1900-1901 were fully met, through great economy on the part of college officials, by income from registered students, interest from endowment, now equal to $234,000, and by some special gifts, including the Wellesley Income Fund. Also over $2,000 was paid off on the deficit necessarily incurred during the second year that was unexpectedly required to raise the endowment.

"Even more satisfactory results may be expected for the year 1901-1902 since the College has the income from one hundred students more than for the year 1900-1901. On the other hand, growth in numbers requires development of resources, while a well established reputation for the highest scholarly standards demands a teaching force of able specialists such as can be obtained only at high salaries.

"It is hoped that the day is not far distant when the exceptional opportunities for the development of intellect, character and physical well being, will secure for Wellesley an endowment commensurate with her needs and thus do away with the necessity for our Income Fund. In the meantime, however, the Fund, if loyally supported, will be of great practical service in helping to meet the necessary current expenses of the College.

"Annual pledges for about $2,000 have already been received, and if each alumna and former student will pledge the sum she feels able to within the limits of subscriptions already made, i. e., 50 cents and $100, that amount will easily be doubled before the end of the fiscal year.

"An effort, already partially successful, is being made to secure $1,000, in ten subscriptions of $100 each, on condition that the Income Fund amounts to $4,000 by June. What will you do to help secure the required amount?"

(Signed) Very truly yours,

COMMITTEE: Alice Upton Pearmain, Chairman, 388 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.; Caroline Williamson Montgomery, '94, 1st Vice Chairman; Ellen Fitz Pendleton, 2d Vice Chairman; Hannah Hume, Corresponding Secretary; Isabelle Clark Harmon, Recording Secretary; Alpheus H. Hardy, Treasurer.

The amounts pledged to the Income Fund up to June 25, 1901 are as follows:

1879	$ 52.00	1894	$ 22.50
1880	56.00	1895	46.50
1881	1.00	1896	53.00
1882	4.50	1897	80.00
1883	154.00	1898	71.00
1884	50.00	1899	78.50
1885	77.50	1900	193.00
1886	155.00	1901	86.00
1887	35.50	1902	6.50
1888	34.00	Specials	100.50
1889	75.00	Trustees and College Officials	248.00
1890	150.00
1891	55.00
1892	61.50
1893	49.50	Sum total	$1,996.00

A personal letter has been written to all non-subscribers enclosing the circular and postal pledge hoping thereby to secure enthusiasm for the cause and an enlarged income for the college. It is earnestly hoped that each alumna and former student of Wellesley will feel it her personal duty to become a subscriber—if only a small one—to this fund.

NOTE.

On Monday evening, March 17, in college hall chapel, George Riddle, reader, and B. J. Lang, pianist, will give Tennyson's "Enoch Arden," with music by Richard Strauss.

COLLEGE NOTES.

The second "first trial" for the Wellesley-Vassar debate came off on Wednesday, February 26. The trial lasted from 4.15, P. M., until 9.30 in the evening, with a short adjournment at 6 for dinner. The fifteen people chosen and the sides allotted to them were as follows: Affirmative—Atwood, Crombie, Mills, More, Smith, Warren, True, Lord. Negative—Campbell, Hunter, Conover, Hutsinpillar, Stocking, Klingenhagen, Wood.

On Thursday afternoon our choice of sides was telegraphed to Vassar, Wellesley taking the affirmative.

The trials for the six best speakers came off on Wednesday afternoon and evening, March 6. The following six were chosen: Affirmative—Hutsinpillar, Mills, Woods. Negative—Hunter, Lord, Warren. Substitutes—Campbell, Conover.

The next trial was a finished debate, the three speakers who qualified being the final representatives for Wellesley in the intercollegiate contest.

Miss Fanny Bixby, '05, has gone to Nantucket for her health. Miss Bixby will return to College after the Easter holidays.

On Friday evening, March 7, Professor Royce of Harvard University lectured before the Philosophy Club of Wellesley College. Each member of the club was allowed to invite two guests so that the noted scholar was greeted with a large audience. The subject of his lecture was "The New Conception of the Infinite."

Last Thursday, March 6, was the birthday of Student Government, it being just a year from that date that we first made the request to have such government. The occasion was celebrated with college and class yells in the Centre after chapel service.

Miss Hart and Miss Sweeny have sent out invitations for Friday, March fourteenth, from a quarter to eight to half-past nine, in Stone Hall Parlour, to meet Dean Briggs of Harvard University. At a quarter to eight Dean Briggs will lecture on Donne.

On Monday evening, March 10, in College Hall Chapel, Mr. Francis W. Kelsey of the University of Michigan lectured on "Ten Years Excavation in Pompeii—1892–1901." The lecture was illustrated with stereopticon views.

On Thursday afternoon, March 13, there will be another college reception in Stone Hall Parlour, given for Faculty, Seniors and Sophomores.

Mrs. Ragsdale has sent out a few invitations for Monday night, March 10, from 7 to 9 in Wilder Hall, to meet the Misses E. Pitkin, C. Pitkin, Poynter, McClure, Miller and Lowe.

Last week the Southern Club held a formal business meeting to discuss what could be done to aid the founding of a large Woman's College in the South. With the possible exception of the Women's College in Baltimore, there is at present no such institution in the South.

During the Easter holidays there will be room at The Tea Room for several college students. A change from the college buildings is always desirable during vacation time—it is good for one's mind as well as one's body. At The Tea Room, a complete rest, with plenty of good times and a delicious table are assured to all. Applications for rooms should be made as early as possible to Miss Chase or Miss MacKenzie.

Mme. Calvé in her first and only afternoon musicale Tuesday afternoon, the 25th, at Symphony Hall under Mr. Mudgett's management will draw a large audience. The sale of tickets opens a week from to-morrow, but mail orders are pouring in.

A most attractive set of photographs is on sale at The College Book Store, for the benefit of The Income Fund. The mounted photographs are ten cents each—the unmounted six cents.
